MEREDITH COLLEGE

FIND YOURSELF A SPECIAL FRIEND

If there's someone you can talk to,
Someone no one can replace —
If there's someone you can laugh with
Till the tears run down your face . . .
If there's someone you can turn to
When you need a helping hand,
If there's someone you can count on
To advise and understand . . .
If there's someone you can sit with
And not need to say a word,
If there's someone you can trust
To keep each confidence she's heard

If there's someone you think more of
As each year comes to an end —
You're a very lucky woman
For you've found a Special Friend!

Students find that Cate Center provides for a variety of needs in their daily lives. Below, Mary Arzonico and Lillian Clark visit the post office to see if they have a letter from a friend or family member. Above right: Kim Davis and Manning Winslow take a break from studying to get a snack from the snack bar. Below right Kim Leggett shops for supplies in the Meredith bookstore.

WHAT WILL TOMORROW BRING

What will tomorrow bring?
Sunshine or rain —
Sadness or happiness —
Pleasure or pain?

The answer is yours to form —
Start right away
For tomorrow's a flower
With its roots in today.

FOLLOW YOUR DREAM

Follow your dream
Wherever it leads —
Don't be distracted
By less worthy needs . . .
Nurture it, nourish it,
Help it to grow —
Let your heart hold it down deep
Where dreams go.

Follow your dream
Pursue it with haste;
Time is too precious,
Too fleeting to waste . . .
Be faithful, be loyal
Through all your life through —
The dreams that you follow
Will keep coming true!

IF

If you can live each day with the assurance
That "a girl" is something wonderful to be

If you can find a way to meet your problems

With courage and with true maturity
If you can be attractive and in fashion
Yet never swayed by any vulgar style
If you can choose the finer things life offers

Rejecting what is worthless with a smile . . .

If you can guard the principles you live by

Hold fast to truth and honor all life through

And stand for right in every situation
No matter what the world may say or do
If you can try to offer hope or comfort
To those who seem to need a helping hand

If you can do some little act of kindness
Or say a word that shows you understand . . .

If you can take delight in little children
And be a friend to older folks you know
Can give your warmth and deepest understanding
To fill the lives of those who love you so
If you can practice all the arts of giving
With gracious kindness and with real integrity
You're bound to be a happy person, always
And the lovely woman you were meant to be.

Dedicated to the memory of Ellen Dozier Brewer, for forty-three years head of the Department of Home Economics.

Although she was recognized in the state and beyond as a leader in her profession, her deepest loyalty and love centered in Meredith and Meredith students. With wisdom, gentleness and strength, all seasoned with a delightful sense of humor, she was the embodiment of the highest ideals of our College.

ACADEMICS

Academic life at Meredith is very important to each student. A great emphasis is placed upon maintaining the high academic standards that have been in existence since Meredith's beginning. When she enters Meredith, a student will find that the faculty members are willing to help her in any way possible. Whether to help her choose a major, provide a shoulder for her to cry on during an attack of homesickness, or to help her with her studies, Meredith professors are always there when they are needed.

Students have an opportunity to become acquainted with each faculty member at the President's reception during orientation week. Students entering Meredith for the first time are invited to the President's home to talk with the faculty.

Meredith offers a wide variety of fields from which to choose a major. A Meredith graduate can have almost any kind of career imaginable. Through the many options students have for combining fields for majors and minors, she can create many different kinds of job opportunities for herself. The Academic Dean and all faculty advisors are available to assist students in planning their academic program.

ART

Leonard White — Chairman

Rachel Brown

In the Academic Realm at Meredith, we, as students, learn to express and assert our ideas intellectually. Unlike the structured expression of academics, we, as artists, utilize our skills to represent our inner feelings — our inner selves. In combination, the two aspects, art and academics, help to mold and round our thinking into creative ability, as well as, intellectual reasoning and resolution. The field itself, is one of great challenge, which builds the qualities of assertiveness, individuality, and uniqueness.

The results of a survey conducted by one of America's biggest advertising agencies were remarkable for the working woman. Because, for the first time, it admits two things: "1) There is a woman's movement; and 2) Women of the 80's have it tougher than ever before."

The Business and Economics Department at Meredith is doing a good job of helping us, the future working women, to become competent, hard-working and aggressive. No matter what our career objectives, Meredith prepares us by offering courses that range from Consumer Economics to Shorthand to Managerial Accounting. Because more and more women are entering the business world, the department has increased tremendously in the past few years. It is striving to achieve its goal of preparing the Business and Economics students to establish themselves as tomorrow's business leaders.

Lesson plans . . . PTA meetings . . .

The excitement and apprehension of becoming a teacher. Being led to think back to our teachers, what we liked best about them. Encouraged to start the wheels of creativity rolling — bulletin board ideas, ways, to promote the desire to work and to play at the right times.

Student teaching. Will I really be their teacher? Will they like me? How will I remember all the students' names?

As we reflect upon our education, one aspect heads the top of the list — our teachers. With the instruction and encouragement given by these department members, we will soon join the ranks of that dedicated profession of a teacher.

"Reading maketh a full man; conference a ready man; and writing an exact man." Francis Bacon.

While pursuing a major in English, a student has the opportunity to read and become thoroughly familiar with the works of such principle British writers as Chaucer, Shakespear, and Milton. The study of continental literature, as well as the works of major American authors enables the student to broaden her overall knowledge of the written word and its effects on mnkind.

An English major also finds conference essential to the study of literature. Classroom discussion and individual interaction with faculty members give opportunities for a student to develop intellectually through the sharing of ideas.

Finally, an English major studies and applies composition techniques, as well as grammatical principles in written assignments. By learning to present her ideas in an organized and logical manner, the student develops mental discipline and becomes skilled at precision in communication.

Why am I taking foreign language?
Maybe I'll sail along the Rhine. Or walk just start an international disco or brings world peace. And if I'm really lucky, I'll pass Latin this semester and be able to graduate!

The Physical Education Department at Meredith has something for YOU . . . volleyball, tennis, dance, badminton, golf, horseback riding, gymnastics, conditioning, swimming, and much more. The department not only offers a wide variety of areas in

P.E., but also a qualified and well-trained staff who lead these activities. Varsity sports such as softball, basketball, golf, volleyball, and tennis are offered to those girls who are competitive and interested. Because of its variety, excitement, and rewards, physical education will continue to play a vital role in life at Meredith.

PSYCHOLOGY

John Huber — Chairman

Marie Mason

Psychology at Meredith means many special opportunities: visiting speakers from diverse areas . . . internships in the community . . . animal research . . . Psychology Club . . . distinguished visiting professors . . . Psi Chi . . . Carolinas' Psychology Conference . . . field experiments . . . movies. The courses offered cover a very broad spectrum and provide insight into the workings of society and the individual. Upon graduation, the Psychology major is well prepared for the world of work or further education. The professors in the department are genuinely interested in helping the students to make the most out of their experience at Meredith.

RELIGION

Meredith's Religion Department offers a major in religion which requires twenty-four hours of study, and a minor which requires eighteen hours. To receive a major one must have taken courses in all three of the following categories: biblical studies, religious history and thought, and religion and society. To minor in religion one must take work in at least two of these categories. Three courses in Philosophy are taught, and it is possible to arrange a minor in Philosophy. The flexible requirements allow students to take a wide variety of courses in different fields which is evident in that most religion majors are prepared to teach, for social work, or work in a church related career. Some non-religion majors enjoy different religious studies offered. The faculty of the Religion Department consists of various academic backgrounds, and are involved in campus activities, committee work, and extracurricular activities in addition to their teaching responsibilities.

students the development of social people, both as unique individuals and as members of a particular culture and society.

FRIENDS

There will be many memories we will treasure of our days at Meredith. Perhaps the most special of those memories will be centered around the friends we made.

From the day we first arrive at Meredith for freshman orientation (or maybe even for an Open Day visit while we are yet in high school) to the day of our graduation, we are continuously meeting different people and making new friends. Meredith graduates tell us that we will never forget the people with whom we form our friendships at Meredith.

The friends at Meredith are special. Where else can you find someone who will allow you to persuade her to order a pizza just before midnight and then sit and listen to your problems with boyfriends and grades until the wee hours of the morning, when she has an 8:00 class the next day? Or someone who will sacrifice watching her favorite soap opera to play tennis with you, so you can be prepared for your p.e. practical? Or someone who will miss a date on Friday night and a football game on Saturday afternoon so she can go home with you for the weekend?

Giving birthday parties, sharing helpful hints on hairstyles, clothes and make-up, attending a volleyball game to root your best friend to victory, and covering doors in the famous tissue paper decorations for special occasions are only a few of the things friends do for each other at Meredith. The familiar trips with our friends to Krispy Kreme, Pizza Hut, Wendy's or the ice cream bar at State are an important part of our daily lives.

At Meredith, we make life long friends who stand beside us through thick and thin, happy times and sad times. Throughout our four years here while we see our friends almost every day, we seem like a close-knit family.

When one of our "family" members leaves the Meredith community, for whatever reason, there is always a touch of sadness in our hearts. However, we realize that if we love our friends as much as we think we do, we will love them enough to want the best for them. If it is best for them to leave our Meredith community, we are not selfish enough to want them to stay here. Added to the touch of sadness is a touch of joy to know that our friend will be exploring a new avenue and broadening her life.

And when we all leave at graduation, we will feel the same simultaneous sadness and joy. Sad to know that we will be leaving our family and home of four years; happy to realize that we will always cherish in our hearts the treasured memories of the precious friends we made at Meredith.

What's it like to be a senior? Well . . . it's scary and sad on the one hand, yet exhilarating and happy on the other. Everybody knows what it feels like to have this sore little lump in your throat and that knot in your stomach when thinking, with not too little panic, "This is our last Thanksgiving Dinner; our last Christmas Dinner, oh no, our last Christmas Dance; last time around for Cornhuskin' and Stunt; last time for everything . . ."

Right before Founder's Day it's time to get our caps and gowns. Those of us who have not yet been hit by the last pang of 'senioritis' are being hit then. 'Senioritis' is a very common affliction among college students, and around Spring Break it spreads like wildfire. The symptoms are a general listlessness and acute lack of concentration on things scholastic, accompanied either by a daredevilish euphoria ("We studied hard for three years, now let's do something else!") or by a more depressive frame of mind ("We'll never make it through all this!"). Time is the only recommendable remedy for this disease, come May, all symptoms will have vanished completely.

There is so much to be done before graduation! Student teaching, which means an entire semester of getting up at 6:30 and dressing up each morning, graduation recitals, which mean practice, and hearings, and more practice, and the final throbbing stage fright on the big day, art shows, co-op, business internships, and for the last time, exams; all these events and so many more are part of our senior year. But when, unbelievably, everything has been accomplished and we receive our diplomas on graduation day, then we can joyfully experience the high-point of four years of study. Exhilaration for one day, until we again think of jobs, and graduate study, and planning weddings, and, and . . .

Dear Senior Class,

Who can believe that the end has come so quickly? We leave Meredith with special feelings in our hearts and in our minds. The memories that we share will always be with us, but what do we leave behind? We leave empty halls and scarred walls that hold echoes of laughter, tears and special words that were once shared between friends. We also leave a spirit — a spirit of unity, happiness, and enthusiasm that will soon be altered or overlooked by new seniors. But what we take away from Meredith will never be stolen from us. The knowledge and happiness that we have found here will always live in our lives. For it is here that we learned about ourselves and what we wanted to give to life.

Yes, this year has been a special one. We have looked back to our beginning and seen that we truly have "come from rags to riches." We leave here convinced that "our futures are brighter" and "our cares are much lighter —" simply because "Meredith lives in our hearts."

Thank you Class of '80, for a very special year!

Sincerely yours,

Lee, Danette, Kim, and Ann

Upon returning to Meredith this fall, the Juniors anxiously awaited another year which was to bring new and exciting responsibilities. First among many was the transition from being little sisters to becoming big sisters for the class of 1983. While some of us had only one little sister and others had two or three, we all did our best to welcome them to Meredith and to make them feel as if they had at least one friend they could turn to amid all the confusion and chaos. "Welcome to Meredith" gifts, surprises on Cornhuskin', Christmas and other special occasions, an ice-cream party to start the year off — these were all ways in which we tried to make our little sisters feel special and loved. In the Cornhuskin' 79 activities, Paradise proved to be far from lost, as the winning Junior Class presented a woman's view of the creation. Following through on this theme, the class of '81 based their winning skit on Eve's naming of the animals in the garden. In the Tall Tale event, Gayle Nichols subjected the audience to a thorough ribbing as she recounted how the first woman was plucked from Adam's side. In a night filled with outstanding competition and hilarity, the Juniors proved outstanding in participation as well. All in all, Cornhuskin '79 turned out to be not only Paradise Revisited, but Paradise Won for the Junior Class. The Junior-Senior was another exciting event in our year. The setting for this year's Junior-Senior as the Holshauer Building located on the State Fairgrounds and was given on March 14. The Embers provided the entertainment and the night was enjoyed by all, to the relief and delight of the Juniors, who had worked hard selling raffle tickets and bumper stickers to raise money for the event. As our third year at Meredith came to a close, we were filled with joy at having made it a successful year and one that would always be remembered.

Campus jobs are a way of life for some of us and can be fun and exciting as Tanya — above, demonstrates.

Below and to the left — Parties, picnics and just plain old clowning around are some of the things Meredith girls enjoy doing.

SOPHOMORES

What's a BZ?

To begin with, she's the one with the hat.

She is the decision maker, for she must now decide for herself when to come in instead of having someone tell her. Although she gets a queasy feeling when someone asks, "What's your major?" she knows that by the end of the year, she'll have an answer.

She is the advisor. She shares her experiences with newcomers, helping them find their way. She's the one welcoming the freshmen with a candle and a song.

She is the in-between-er — younger than most, but older than some.

She's the one with the new driver's license.

She is the one with the secret — and she can keep it until Cornhuskin' night.

She's finding her place — on the other side of the courtyard, on the other side of the cafeteria.

She's the one whose car was towed, but that's OK; she can walk to Zack's this year.

She's the one holding the daisy chain and saying good-bye to her big sister class.

For her, Time is passing, Time is flying, but she's having the time of her life. And about those hats: they say she belongs to a special group.

She's an angel of '82!

FRESHMEN YEAR — A TIME TO ADJUST

Beginning with orientation week and continuing through the first year, freshmen are introduced to all the exciting aspects of Meredith life. For instance, in August after getting settled in our new rooms, there were times for getting acquainted with the handbook regulations, and learning the ins and outs of the Meredith community.

However, there were times for enjoyment such as meeting our big sisters at the annual picnic, and getting to know the other freshmen on our halls.

After surviving the pressures of registration and new classes freshmen eagerly anticipated the Cornhuskin' festivities. Hardly a day passed during the week without a water battle in the courtyard, cheers shouted during meals, or toilet paper rolled all over the courtyard, signifying the Freshmen and Sophomore Class rivalry.

Though many of our days were filled with trips to Hillsborough Street, Fraternity Row, and visits from Domino's and PTA, we had time to develop long lasting friendships that greatly added to our first year at Meredith.

ACTIVITIES

Every Meredith student can find an extra-curricular activity to meet her needs and wants. There are numerous organizations on campus to help each student to become a well-rounded individual.

Almost every major department has a club for majors within that department. Many of these clubs are chapters of the larger state or national clubs.

Membership in these clubs give students something to include on a job resume, but they also do much more. Each club sponsors guest speakers and field trips to acquaint members with job opportunities in their respective field.

Clubs also sponsor fun activities and trips for the members. Every student is encouraged to join the club in her major department.

Some clubs are formed for the purpose of providing service to other people. Any Meredith student may join a service club, such as the Phis and Astros, or Circle K. There are also service clubs for those girls who have special interests in such things as politics, government or personnel administration. Meredith students whose mothers or grandmothers attended Meredith are members of the Granddaughters, which is primarily a service club.

For those students interested in music, dance or drama, there are many opportunities to further those interests. If a student likes to sing, she may join the Chorus, Ensemble, Chorale, or Renaissance Singers. The Meredith Playhouse gives students an excellent opportunity to express themselves in theater. The modern dance performing group gives an opportunity for students to express themselves in dance.

Students interested in leadership may find themselves on one of the many boards or committees in the governing system of Meredith College. Student leaders may be a Marshal or Student Advisor, or be a member of Legislative Board, Elections Board, Judicial Board, or Residence Hall Board.

Those students interested in publications are encouraged to join the staff of the Oak Leaves, Acorn, or Twig.

These three publications each serve the Meredith community in a unique way.

Each student is encouraged to develop herself spiritually, mentally and physically. For the physical development, Meredith students find many recreation opportunities open to her. She can join a club for her interests or play a team sport. Basketball, Golf, Softball, Tennis and Volleyball are popular sports at Meredith.

Honorary societies exist at Meredith to promote such things as leadership and Christian character, as well as scholarship. Kappa Nu Sigma, Phi Alpha Theta, Psi Chi, Sigma Alpha Iota and Silver Shield encourage high ideals among Meredith students.

When each student enters Meredith she automatically becomes a member of the Meredith Christian Association Student Government Association, and Meredith Recreation Association.

No matter what her interests, a student at Meredith can find a club or organization to satisfy her desire for an extra-curricular activity.

PUBLICATIONS

OAK LEAVES

The 1980 OAK LEAVES staff began working in April, 1979 to put the yearbook together. For the second year we took senior pictures in the spring. We were successful in our attempts to time the pictures with the azalea blossoms.

During the summer, the editors attended a workshop led by Hunter Publishing Company. Before, during and after the four-day workshop they planned layouts, cover designs, copy ideas and photo ideas.

After the ladder diagram was completed, the staff members began to work diligently. We wrote and typed copy, supervised the photographing of clubs, administration, faculty and students, and drew many preliminary layouts in order to get the perfect page designs for the book.

The many hours of hard work we put into the production of this yearbook have been very rewarding. Even though we often missed classes, meals, dates, other club meetings and an entire ski season, and spent many nights working into the wee hours of the morning, we feel that it was well worth it.

We, the staff, hope that you enjoy looking at the 1980 OAK LEAVES as much as we enjoyed preparing it for you.

STUDENT LIFE

Our student life at Meredith begins the day in August when we arrive our freshman year and continues later on to our graduation day in May. For those 4 years Meredith encircles us in our own special world. Besides the time spent with worries over our studies, life on our college campus serves to fill our days.

Who could forget the traditional events that we look forward to each year? Cornhuskin' unifies each class through the water fights, courtyard yelling contests, stealing scripts, and finally on Cornhuskin' night with the thrill of victory (or perhaps the agony of defeat). Meals also fill our traditions with the Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner buffets. Then the classes again pull together in a skit as they participate in Stunt. Students find a great way to welcome spring weather as they play games and compete with the faculty in Play Day. Finally the school year comes to an end, but not without the usual events: hiding the crook, big sister — little sister parties, class day, and then graduation.

A very special tradition, which occurs only once in every college generation, leaves a unique impression on Meredith students. This is, of course, the faculty presentation of "Alice in Wonderland". Students are given a different view of life in Wonderland as they see the faculty enjoy a tea party and be tried for the theft of tarts.

Student life at Meredith isn't confined just to traditional events. New things occur with the birth of each year — from concerts, clown shows, plays, and special weeks, to teacher appreciation days, dances, and Spring Flings.

Each individual student brings her own special talents and gifts to each year; thus enriching the student life at Meredith.

Moving On In!

Moving in day would have to be the hottest day of the summer so far! I feel like I have brought everything that could possibly fit into our car. Mom keeps telling me that I'm not even going to need half of this stuff, but I'm playing it safe and bringing it all.

The only consolation I have is being on the first floor. There aren't any steps to climb! Thank goodness I'm not on the fourth floor—I don't think I'd make it. Oh well, at least I don't have to do this again until May when I move out—then I'll be too excited about going home to notice my sore feet!

Registration

I wonder if that class has closed yet? I need it to graduate in May!

Whew, what a relief. I have finally passed English Comp, but now I have to try my luck at British Authors. How will I be able to avoid the 2 English professors who flunked me in 111?

I can't believe the P.E.s have all filled up. I wanted to experiment with golf this semester.

I can't find my advisor. Who will sign my newly revised schedule?

Where is the crying towel? They accidentally put me in a calculus class, and I haven't even had baby math!

This is all so confusing! I hope registration isn't this chaotic every semester. I'll never make it to graduation.

Parents

Parents Weekend affords a special time for family and friends to discover the quality of life on the "Angel Farm." This year's Parents Weekend was held November 3-4 instead of the usual spring date in order to encompass a larger number of participants. This change paid off with the largest attendance ever.

Activities began at a luncheon for the alumnae families in the Mae Grimmer Alumnae House. Later, registration was held at the Cate Center. In addition to registration, families could visit the various displays set up in Cate by clubs, classes, and departments. Video tapes of Cornhuskin', slides concerning MCA, and journals from each class rounded out the exhibits.

Weekend

The Home Ec. department sponsored a fashion show to end the afternoon activities. That night a banquet was held in Belk Dining Hall. Parents were entertained by the Meredith Ensemble.

Parents got a look at the talent on the campus when they attended the Meredith Showcase. Students sang, danced, played the piano, and relived Cornhuskin' Tall Tales.

Sunday morning consisted of a special student-led worship service in Jones Auditorium. This was followed by an old fashioned Pig Pickin' in the courtyard. Everyone left Parents Weekend with a greater understanding of the Meredith community.

A Visit From the Real "Eve"

Meredith College was fortunate this year to have a special person visit and lecture on the campus. This person was Mrs. Chris Sizemore, or Eve, from the book and movie "The Three Faces of Eve." The psychology department sponsored her visit.

Preparation for Chris's visit began with the showing of the movie "The Three Faces of Eve." Then the real Eve came and spoke about her personal life. Recently Chris and her cousin Ellen Pittillo wrote an account of Chris's life, "I'm Eve." Eve's cousin Ellen accompanied her on the visit.

Sizemore suffered for 40 years from the unique mental disorder, multiple personality. This dissociative response is a neurosis which she describes as a "unique coping mechanism for facing the realities of life that seem unbearable." The mechanism produces separate personalities to deal with stressful situations. It is not a form of schizophrenia, which implies a shattered personality. "It is not moods, not role playing. The personalities are totally separate entities," Sizemore explained. Over the past 40 years she experienced 22 personalities.

Chris enjoys lecturing, and feels it is good for her. "Once in a while, I have to be honest, I get torn up. I don't try to be the canned speech. I talk to people the way I feel at the moment." After the lecture in Jones Auditorium and discussion time at Cate Center, everyone felt truly honored to have had the opportunity to meet the real "Eve."

Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellows: Max and Esther Krebs

For a week in November, Meredith students had the opportunity to get acquainted with Max and Esther Krebs. The Krebs' spent 30 years in the foreign service, and Max was United States ambassador to Guyana. After working in Guyana, Max retired from his career.

While the Krebs' were on our campus, Mr. Krebs spoke at convocation on the SALT II Treaty. Also, Max and Esther led discussions with students and faculty members and visited informally with them.

Religious Emphasis Week

"Inward and Upward: An Unending Pilgrimage" was the theme of Religious Emphasis Week, January 28 — February 1, 1980. The Rev. Judi Smith, a Meredith graduate, was guest speaker for the week. Her topics were "Let Me Do It For Myself," "I Can't Do It Myself," and "We're All In This Together." The concert for the week featured "Chalice", a Christian band.

On Tuesday night, a candlelight Communion service was held. Other events of the week included a prayer breakfast, faculty luncheon, and informal discussions, led the Rev. Judi Smith.

Black Emphasis Week

Black Voices in Unity sponsored Black Emphasis Week, February 18-24. BEW is held each year to highlight the views and interests of Meredith's and America's black community.

Dr. Patsy Perry, of North Carolina Central University, delivered the convocation address, and later hosted an informal discussion on the work of Frederick Douglas.

A reception for visiting artists James and Earnestine Rainey Huff was given in Johnson Hall Rotunda. An exhibit of recent paintings and drawings by the Huffs was on display in the Rotunda.

Yvonne Beasley, Baptist chaplain at NCCU, led a worship service. Special music was included in the service.

The Performing Dance Troupe from St. Augustine's College presented a program. Their performance combined creative movements and a history of black dance.

The week was wrapped up with the movie, "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman."

Special Meals

Angels do not live by bread alone but by every meal prepared for them in Belk Dining Hall! Buffet style Thanksgiving and Christmas Dinners highlight the "Special Meals" prepared by Mr. Packer and his able staff. Of course everyone enjoys crossing the bridge at the amphitheater to the island of Hawaii for a luau. Picnics in the courtyard before Cornhuskin and after Play Day certainly are compliments to those events. Even special desserts like monthly birthday cakes, ice cream, or make-your-own-crepes serve to make the meals at Meredith all the more special.

Pie Throw and Concert

As soon as the school year began in August, The Residence Hall Board busily began making preparations for the Tom Chapin concert to be held October 17 at Meredith.

In order to raise money for the concert's publicity, a picnic and pie throw were held in the courtyard. Students found themselves with the chance to hit their favorite (or not-so-favorite, as the case may be) professor, hall proctor, dorm president, or administrator with a whipped cream pie. It seems that pie targets and pie throwers were all covered before the last pie was thrown (at Dean White, no less!).

The Tom Chapin concert was a great success. The extensive publicity paid off with a crowded Weatherspoon Gymnasium. Everyone enjoyed the concert which included a lot of audience participation with hand clapping, key jingling, and singing.

Fall Drama Good News

Tait College had a major problem — they were preparing for the biggest football game of the season, and their star player had flunked an exam. If he did not pass a make-up exam, he would not be able to play in the game. If he did not play, the Tait team would surely lose. The crisis unified the students in trying to save their school from the horrible fate of losing to their arch rivals.

If you are wondering "Where is Tait College?!" you must have missed "Good News", a drama set in 1926. Tait Students, like all students, showed concern over studying and future, but they also had good times, complete with romance and pranks. The superb music, dancing and comedy made this play one well worth seeing.

Spring Drama The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the- Moon Marigolds

"Gamma Rays", by Paul Zindel, won the Pulitzer Prize for drama in 1971. The play is realistic, not about the typical American family. The family in "Gamma Rays" consists of a widow and her two daughters. One daughter is a shy, scientific genius, while the other is emotionally unstable. We see both the best and the worst of human nature in the ways the family members deal with each other. We see love, pain, cruelty and humor in the women. The economic situation in the family is not a good one. The mother tries to support her daughters and herself by taking a boarder — an old sickly, disabled woman.

Once again, on February 14, 15, 16 the Drama students did an excellent job with the drama production.

Stunt '80

On Wednesday, March 19, classes competed in Stunt '80, and the Junior class came out victorious. The junior stunt, entitled "Staredown at Cate City," was a spoof on Hollywood's musical veterans. Gail Nichols entertained the audience as a Mae West-ish saloon keeper, and Sheriff Kiki Masinburg heroically defended the town from master starrer Black Bart, alias Tammy Cherry.

The "Non-People's Choice Awards," presented by the senior class, took second place in the competition. The sophomore stunt was "Meredith's Medical Madness", and the freshman presented "A Call to Colors."

Judging was done by Louise Crouch, class of 1976, Emily Johnson, class of 1975, Dr. Reid from the biology department, and geography professor Dr. Birkin. The chief judge was Dr. Preston from the math department. Entertainment was provided by the Ensemble.

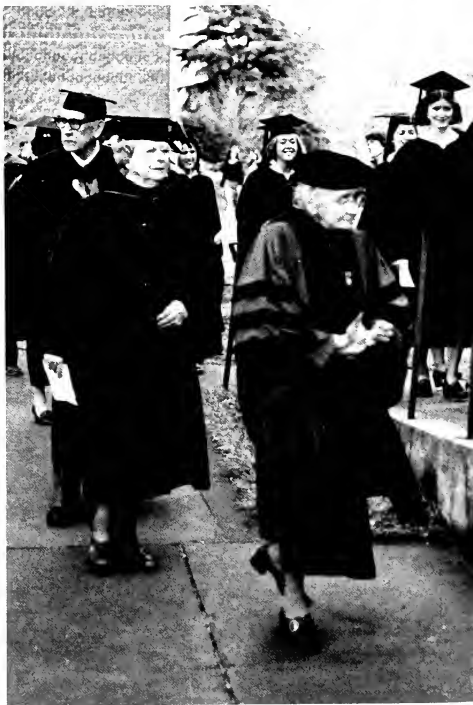

Founder's Day

Amid pageantry and nostalgia, Meredith College celebrated Founder's Day on Friday, February 22, commemorating the eighty-ninth chapter year of the institution.

Celebration began Friday morning with a wreath-laying ceremony at the Thomas Meredith Memorial, followed by a program in Jones Auditorium. The procession of faculty and administration was led by the senior class.

Meredith alumna, Jeanne Grealish, sang Franz Schubert's "Staendchen" with the Meredith Chorale following the greeting by President Weems. Tribute was paid to Dr. Elizabeth Delia Dixon Carroll, as an early founder of the college, by Dr. Elizabeth James Dotterer. Following the recognition of this early founder, tribute was paid to a contemporary founder by Dr. Weems. Dr. Dotterer was in turn chosen for this honor.

The Founder's Day address, entitled "Fairytale," was given by Dr. William J. Bennett, director of the National Humanities Center.

It's Time For a Fling in Spring!

Spring Fling, a chance to enjoy the beautiful spring weather before exams, was held on Sunday, April 27th down at the lake. Students took a break from studying to visit the various booths and listen to the music.

This was the first time an event like this had taken place at Meredith. Sponsored by the Residence Hall Board, Spring Fling encompassed many different campus organizations. From the College Republicans and Circle K to the residence halls, groups helped out in support. The Cate Center Association (CCA) sold Spring Fling buttons and financed the band Rob Crosby.

Everyone found themselves with ample opportunity to spend time at the various displays. Food was in abundance with everything from snow cones, popcorn, lemonade, and soft drinks, to ice cream. For those with bigger appetites, a pie eating contest was held.

Meredith Recreation Association sponsored a kissing booth, a cake walk, and volleyball games. Usually MRA includes events like these in their Country Carnival, but they cancelled the Carnival in order to contribute them to Spring Fling.

One of the highly successful booths was a dunking machine! At 10¢ a throw, students could get the "dummy" all wet. Dunkees included Dr. Cochran, Lynn Moss, and Patrice Strifert. At one time a large crowd gathered to watch and cheer on Dr. Thomas as she successfully dunked Patrice.

Leis were given out free as an added extra to the festivities. Helium balloons were sold, as were chances to ride in a hot air balloon. Unfortunately a tornado watch forestalled the setting up of the balloon, but everyone was given the chance to see the big basket and pictures of the balloon. Two lucky people were promised a ride later in the week.

Those who had the time got their faces painted as clowns. Others just enjoyed sitting down and listening to the music of Rob Crosby, who played all afternoon.

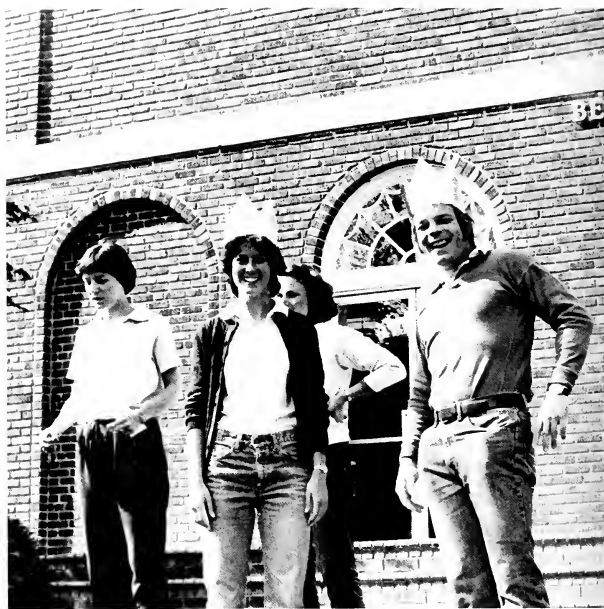

It's Play Day!

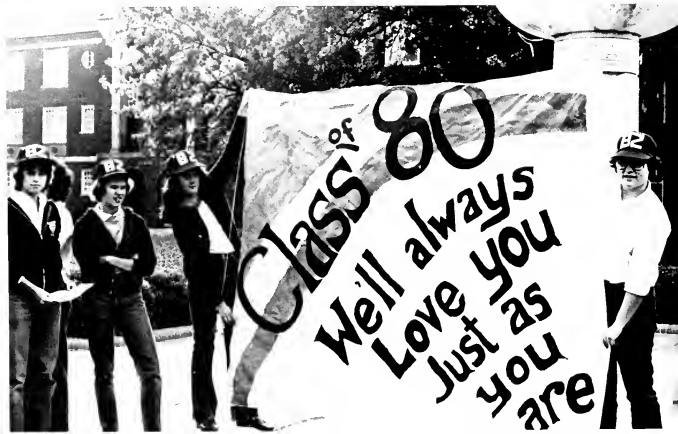

Play Day activities took place on April 17 in the courtyard. Departments competed in the activities, with the Business Department taking first place, the Psychology/Sociology Departments coming in second place, and the student development team held third place.

Play Day gives students and faculty a chance to toss aside papers and books and to compete in the annual activities. The tradition, which celebrated its fortieth year this year, provides a unique setting for faculty and students to get to know each other outside of the classroom.

Dr. Johnson of the Business Department was chosen as the duke, and Becky White was named duchess. Activities were stopped long enough for everyone to enjoy a picnic supper prepared by the Cafeteria Staff.

The Thrills of Cornhuskin'!

It seemed like the night of Cornhuskin' would never arrive. The week of this annual event was filled with long practices, cold courtyard water fights, and loud raids all night long. That night did finally arrive, and what a night it was!

The juniors, with their first place win, explored life in the Garden of Eden. What if Eve had been created before Adam? Their hogcalling skit portrayed Eve trying to recall what she had named a certain animal (pig). One of Adam's ribs was the tall tale.

The seniors placed second with their look at fairytales. They captured the hearts of all with their songs which included special effects like a mirror ball and falling balloons. Cinderella's slipper gave a new perspective on that fairytale in the seniors' tall tale.

The sophomores' A Time For Us showed the need for time to get everything done: homework and soap opera watching. An alarm clock gladly told what it was like to be on the other side of a swatting had during a fire drill in their tall tale. The security guards came to the rescue of a Meredith girl after she was abandoned by her date. They came in third place.

The freshman, took a look at Susie in Fraternityland, came in fourth place. A tall tale involving an add-a-bead and songs from the movie Animal House completed their Cornhuskin' event.

Dr. Bernie Cochran gave the faculty tall tale in the form of a plea for equal rights for fairy godfathers. Complete with black leotard, pink tu-tu, wand, and pink scarf, Dr. Cochran impressed upon everyone the need for a GRA (Godfathers Rights Amendment).

Entertainment, while the judges were deliberating, included the traditional Bathtub Ring appearance and then the appearance of two newcomers. Lynn Moss and Patrice Strifert led a sing-along of everyone's favorite beach tunes.

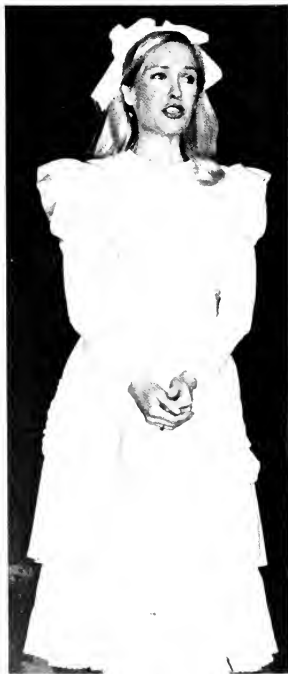

Bernie, you're just tu-tu much!

A Look Into Wonderland . . .

Students got a different view of life in wonderland through the eyes of their faculty and administration. Upholding this Meredith tradition, the faculty presented the play "Alice in Wonderland" to a packed house. Realizing this major event only happens once for each student, everyone eagerly watched their professors transformed into rabbits, mice, cats, toads, and royalty. Never before had there been a Madhatter's Tea Party which included dialogue about pina colodas or Crazy Zacks. Who could imagine that the faculty had been to Helena Allen's School of Dance in order to become dancing cards? But all too soon the play was over. Students then got to congratulate the performers at a real Tea Party in the Dining Hall.

Alice (Dr. Thomas) sings as Humpty-Dumpty dances for the audience.

The court desperately tries to find out exactly who stole the tarts.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

Meredith's Christmas season was officially opened on December 1, with the Cate Christmas Crash, sponsored by the Residence Hall Board.

Next came the eagerly awaited Christmas Buffet, prepared by the Cafeteria Staff. Belk Dining Hall was festively decorated, complete with ice sculptures which loomed over the vast array of delicious food. The beautifully trimmed Christmas tree served as an appropriate background for our entertainment, provided by the Ensemble and Cafeteria Staff. Afterwards, students continued spreading Christmas cheer with the traditional caroling at the homes of Meredith's faculty.

Entertained by the 7th of May, anxious students filled Belk Dining Hall on December 8 for the Christmas Dance. On the following day, the Music Department offered students and community members as inspiring concert which featured Meredith's various musical groups.

During the final days of the Fall semester, students found Christmas Hall Parties and gifts from Secret Santas a welcomed relief from the last minute cramming for finals. At last, we were on our way home for Christmas break!

Astro and Phi Rush Week

On Monday, January 21 Meredith's service clubs began their Rush Week activities. One of the highlights of this week was Astro Day, when the club members decorated the cafeteria in the Astro colors of yellow and white. That night, the club entertained prospective members with skits, singing, and refreshments. Thirty-five new members were inducted into the club at a candlelight ceremony in February.

Next came Phi Day. All students were invited to the Phi rush party, where they learned about the work with cerebral palsy and the annual Phi Auction. An added extra at this year's party was the induction of the new Bathtub Ring from the class of '82, to carry on this Phi tradition for another 2 years. Eighteen students signed up to join the ranks as Phis.

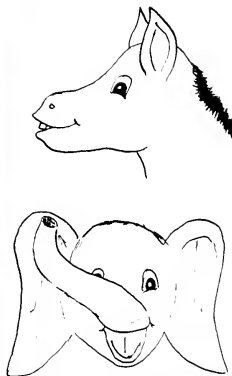

PAW

The week of March 24-28 was designated as Political Awareness Week, a first for Meredith. The Young Democrat Club, College Republicans, the History Club, and Phi Theta sponsored the event, which was designed to inform the Meredith Community and dissolve the political apathy so prevalent in today's college students.

The week included such events as an informal panel discussion on the Democratic Party, a panel discussion with representatives from Republican state candidates, a voter registration, and a mock election. A visit from former Governor Bob Scott was a highlight of Political Awareness Week.

Happy Valentine's Day

At Meredith, February 14 is probably one of the most anxiously awaited days for the year. Throughout the day, dozens and dozens of flowers arrive at Johnson Hall bearing the names of the lucky Angels who were remembered on Valentine's Day. Many girls make several trips to Johnson Hall during the day, just to take a peek at the name cards, hoping that one might be addressed to them.

Meredith Abroad

During the summer of 1979, 39 students and their professors lived, learned, and played on the British Isles as they participated in the fifth year of the Meredith Abroad Summer in Britain Program. The first two weeks of the summer were spent on Meredith's campus cramming in a half of semester's worth of work so there would be more leisure time while in Britain. After one week of respite from studies and a time to say good-bye to family, students and faculty flew out of RDU and into two months packed with learning and growing.

Wimbledon. Musuems. Theatre. Dance. Music. Art. People. Tubes. Maps. Broadstair, Oxford. Canterbury. Coventry. Castles. Cathedrals. Food. Roses. Friendship. Letters from the U.S.A. And studies. All this and more was a way of life. Often the toughest decisions were those concerning which play to see that evening, or which museums to take in that day.

At times the hours dragged by. Feet were tired. The exchange rates rose. But before long, it was time to return home. Customs agents, delayed flights, and weighty luggage were part of the homecoming; but it was worth it. Britain was great — for a summer — but everyone enjoyed getting back to the U.S.A.

CLASS DAY

May 10, Seniors and Sophomores celebrated Class Day 1980. Traditionally, sophomores pick daisies (right center) very early Saturday morning, to make a chain to present to the Seniors during the afternoon ceremony. Laney Hodge, sophomore class president, leads the class of 1982 as they present the daisy chain (left).

Above right, members of the sophomore class present a banner to the seniors.

Another tradition for even-numbered classes is the "Sticks and Stones" ceremony. Lower right, Gloria Gaskin, Judy Wilkerson and Mary Louise Webb, like all sophomores, receive sticks and stones from the seniors.

Upper left: The "Bathtub Ring", consisting of four Phi society members from the class of 1980 and Milton the Bear, entertains.

Lower right: Dannette Gordon, vice-president, leads the class of 1980 down the amphitheater steps in preparation for Class Day exercises.

GRADUATION

Center and lower right, groups from the music department perform during graduation ceremonies.

Our days as students at Meredith came to an end May 11, 1980. Only four short years ago, we entered Meredith as excited freshmen. The excitement is still with us, but it is a different kind of excitement. Now we are excited about going out into the great wide world — we are maybe a little bit apprehensive about what awaits us, but still we are excited.

In Appreciation

After many long months of writing copy, drawing layouts and spending hours at the typewriter, it is finally time for my job to come to an end. I did not realize that being OAK LEAVES editor would be such a challenging job. Even though at times it was easy to become discouraged, I am grateful for the opportunity to have had this learning and growing experience.

It is hard to believe that it is time to give up something around which my life has revolved for such a long time. Yet, I am ready to turn the challenge over to Jill.

I want to say a loud "Thank you!" to everyone who helped to make this yearbook possible. Jill Kibler, my associate editor, and Martha Reaves, photographer, contributed many hours to yearbook work. Without them, this book would not have been completed. Bill Norton, OAK LEAVES advisor, was always willing to help in any way I needed him. I am especially grateful to Barbara, Jeannie, and Sandy, who put up with my countless telephone calls and took many messages, especially during weeks portraits were being taken. And, Sandy and Pam, your prayers meant a lot to me, too. Most of all, I would like to thank my parents. Without the love, support and encouragement of my parents, my roommate and my suitemates, I think I would have been miserable throughout the past year.

Jill, I wish you the best of luck with the 1981 OAK LEAVES. I have confidence that you and the staff will do a great job! I am sure you will enjoy the challenge.

To the Meredith community, my greatest desire has been to create a yearbook that will help you relive the precious moments of your year at Meredith. If you enjoy this book of memories as much as I enjoyed preparing it for you, all the work will have been worth it.

Kathy Grindstaff
